Established 20 years from a passion for design and renovation

Mark Jephcott is an experienced designer and space planner and in the early 2000s had started to follow his passion and renovate properties. In 2006 he was embarking on his latest and largest project to date, a full renovation of a terraced house in Harborne which required him to replace the old sash windows. Wanting to be sympathetic to the architecture and period features, his goal was to replace them with something that both retained these qualities whilst also offering far greater energy efficiency and security. The only problem? Nobody offered such a thing locally.

“Eventually I managed to find and order some directly from a manufacturer which was miles away. They were great, but they took me so long to find and I had to fit them myself! It got me thinking, surely I cannot be the only one? I’m in the renovation industry and finding it difficult, just how hard is it for everyone else?”

And so on the 24th of January 2007, The Harborne Sash Window Company was born to serve the local community and beyond.

Since our inception we have grown considerably year on year and now offer an expansive range of windows and doors in all different materials, carefully selected to suit your home.

WHY CHOOSE THE HARBORNE SASH WINDOW COMPANY

Starting off in a “small cupboard”, the company is now based at a recently renovated property that for the first time houses our showroom, offices and warehouse, all in just the one location.

After 10 successful years establishing ourselves as one of the West Midlands’ premier window and door installers the next step for us was to open our second showroom, and we quickly settled on the town of Leamington Spa. Renowned for its Georgian architecture and ideally located to reach the wider communities in Warwickshire, Leamington Spa stood out as the ideal location for our plans and on the 20th of October 2018, we threw our doors open.

To this day, The Harborne Sash Window Company is still owned and run by Mark Jephcott, supported by his brother Richard and sister Sonia, it is a true family business. Mark’s passion, experience and expertise are not only shared by his family but also ingrained into the team here today which ensures that you will receive our best attention and advice at all times. Our dedicated handpicked fitting teams are not just installers but highly skilled carpenters and joiners in their own right and have vast amounts of experience.

We pride ourselves on our knowledge, design and independent advice and we truly believe there is no better place to improve your home than with us.

For 20 years The Harborne Sash Window Company has been helping homeowners improve their homes with our beautiful, bespoke windows and doors, expertly fitted by our dedicated & experienced teams. Whether you have a period property or modern home, you can be assured that with our wealth of knowledge, dedication to our craft and attention to detail, you are in the right place.

Visit one of our showrooms and see first-hand the passion we have for our truly stunning range of windows & doors or book a design consultation with one of the team for advice specifically tailored to you and your property. We do not believe that the beauty of your home has to be sacrificed just to make it more energy efficient and we pride ourselves on our design led focus. From inspiration to installation, you can expect nothing but the very best from us.

WHAT OUR CUSTOMERS ARE SAYING

“We have used the Harborne Sash Window Company to replace our windows in our listed home and have found the product, installation and service team to be amazing. It is not often you find a company that you will recommend unreservedly but I can say that this is one. The product is great the team are first class, their communication is effortless and their service sets them apart.”

- Tracey Westall

“Excellent customer service, friendly & efficient installation & beautiful products. Have now used Harborne Sash Windows twice & would thoroughly recommend.”

- Nicky Robey

“We have now had ten windows installed and have been very pleased with the quality of the windows and the workmanship.”

- WBC Analytics

“Thanks for the service. The company has been easy to work with from the start, helping ensure the style of the windows complemented the period of the house. The windows are now installed and look great, and the fitting looks lovely. They’ve really gone the extra effort to ensure the windows are showcased, especially the level of detail around the three windows in the master bedroom, what they’ve done really adds to the installation and improves the room as a whole. They were also very tidy during the installation, leaving the rooms in good condition each day, and kept the noise disruption to a minimum.”
